Main Characters

Remember to indent

Character's Name - The first character listed should be the most important character. Characters should then be described in order of importance. Students should write at least one paragraph about each character.

Character 2's Name -

Synopsis

Each paragraph should be indented. Make sure that you use your very best writing, and you should always stay within the margins. The synopsis, or summary, should be at least one page long.

Your report should show good organization and should flow from one paragraph to the next. Make sure to correct any spelling errors and use correct punctuation.

Don't wait to start writing this until the day before it is due. This report should take a little while to complete. Have your mom or dad read through it to check for mistakes.

Reports should be turned in inside some kind of report folder. A folder has been sent home as an example for this report. The folder should have the book title and the student's name on it.
