Character's Name - The first character
Indent → listed should be the most important character. Characters should then be listed and described in order of importance. Students should write at least one paragraph describing the main characters of the book.

Character 2's Name -

Summary

Indent the first line of each paragraph. Students should use their very best writing. The summary length will be provided by the teacher.

The report should show good organization and should flow from one paragraph to the next. Use correct spelling and punctuation. Focus on the main points of the book so the reader can get a general overview of the characters and plot.

Start early. Read your book and leave plenty of time to write the report without feeling rushed. Have someone read your report to check for mistakes.
